PRINCIPLE 4: Businesses should respect the interests of and be responsive to all its stakeholders

Essential Indicators

1. Describe the processes for identifying key stakeholder groups of the entity.

The Company identifies its key stakeholder groups based on the nature and scope of its business activities. As a Core Investment Company, the primary stakeholders include shareholders, regulatory authorities (such as RBI and SEBI), group entities, the Board of Directors, and employees. The identification process is guided by regulatory obligations, governance priorities, and the Company's commitment to transparency and responsible stewardship of investments.

2. List stakeholder groups identified as key for your entity and the frequency of engagement with each stakeholder group.

NIL	NIL	NIL	NIL	NIL

Leadership Indicators

1. Provide the processes for consultation between stakeholders and the Board on economic, environmental, and social topics or if consultation is delegated, how is feedback from such consultations provided to the Board.

As a Core Investment Company, the Company has limited direct economic, environmental, and social impact. However, stakeholder consultations, where applicable, are carried out through formal channels such as shareholder meetings, regulatory interactions, and internal governance mechanisms. Feedback from these engagements is communicated to the Board through senior management reports and Board meeting discussions, ensuring the Board remains informed on relevant stakeholder concerns and expectations.

2. Whether stakeholder consultation is used to support the identification and management of environmental, and social topics (Yes / No). If so, provide details of instances as to how the inputs received from stakeholders on these topics were incorporated into policies and activities of the entity.

No – Given the nature of the Company as a Core Investment Company with no operational or manufacturing activities, stakeholder consultation has not been specifically undertaken for the identification and management of environmental and social topics. However, the Company remains committed to good governance and considers stakeholder inputs, where relevant, through its engagement with shareholders, regulators, and group entities.

3. Provide details of instances of engagement with, and actions taken to, address the concerns of vulnerable/ marginalized stakeholder groups.

The Company, being a Core Investment Company with no operational or public-facing business activities, does not have direct engagement with vulnerable or marginalized stakeholder groups. However, the Company supports inclusive and equitable practices across its group entities and, where applicable, contributes to such efforts through group-level corporate social responsibility (CSR) initiatives.

Leadership Indicators
1. Details of a business process being modified / introduced as a result of addressing human rights grievances/complaints. During the reporting period, no human rights-related grievances or complaints were received. Given the Company's limited human resources—comprising only 2 employees, formal processes related to human rights grievance redressal are minimal. However, the Company remains committed to upholding human rights principles and has adopted a policy framework that includes non-discrimination, equal opportunity, and ethical conduct. 2. Details of the scope and coverage of any Human rights due-diligence conducted. As a Core Investment Company (CIC), the Company primarily holds investments in group companies and does not have significant operational or manufacturing activities. Consequently, no formal human rights due diligence was undertaken during the reporting period. However, the Company acknowledges the importance of human rights in the broader investment and governance ecosystem. While direct employee or supply chain interactions are limited, the Company promotes responsible business practices across its group companies and expects them to align with applicable human rights frameworks such as the National Guidelines on Responsible Business Conduct (NGRBC) and relevant legal provisions. The Company will consider incorporating human rights assessments into its investment oversight processes as it evolves.
